Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I am telling you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable and downright something I have to do without. I have not slept soundly for over a week since I heard about this.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many senseless calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is not the way the world should operate. How do you explain this to your kids or even your parents for gods sake.

I use my wireless phone for FUN and to make Crank calls. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair! Let's Roll!!!!

Sincerely,

KEVIN VODAK
